TO BE BROUGHT HERE

BODY OF MAN WHO KILLED HIMSELF IN PITTSBURG.

Mrs. Fannie Audum Brinke, wife of Walter C. Audum Brinke, who committed suicide in Pittsburgh yesterday, apparently did not know what to think when she received word yesterday afternoon that her husband had committed suicide. Two days ago she was informed that he had attempted to end his life and was afterward told that there was no truth in the report. She received word of her husband's death from three sources—a message from Coroner Armstrong, another from the police and a third from newspaper sources. It was stated in the press dispatches that the deceased had killed himself by hanging, while a message from Thomas A. McQuaid, chief of the Pittsburgh police department, gave information that he had resulted from a pistol-shot wound of the head.

The manner in which her husband ended his life did not interest Mrs. Audum Brinke. What she wanted to know was had he really killed himself. The wife last Monday was informed by the local police that they had received a message giving the information that her husband was under arrest for having attempted suicide and asking if he should be sent here to be cared for. The message was directed to the fifth precinct police station, and gave the name and address of Mrs. Audum Brinke. When the wife was questioned she hurried to police headquarters and had Inspector Boardman communicate with the Pittsburgh police.

No Record of Attempt.
Chief McQuaid responded that there was no record in that city of an attempt having been made to commit suicide by a man of the name mentioned. Mrs. Audum Brinke and the police naturally reached the conclusion that the message was not based on fact, but it seems that Mr. Audum Brinke really had attempted to end his life. Receiving the information from so many sources yesterday, Mrs. Audum Brinke concluded that her husband had made a mistake in his efforts to end his life, and hurried to the office of Inspector Boardman and asked him for advice. The official told her he was certain there was no doubt that her husband had killed himself, and advised that she make arrangements for the care and internment of the remains.

When the wife was questioned she hurried to police headquarters and had Inspector Boardman communicate with the Pittsburgh police.

Veteran of Spanish War.
Audum Brinke was a Spanish war veteran. He went to Cuba and participated in the fighting. Since the close of the war he frequently stated to his friends that it was his desire that his remains be interred at Arlington, and in a letter found in his pocket after he had killed himself was a request that his body be buried there. A letter addressed to "My Dearest Tootsie," meaning his wife, set forth that life was no longer worth living since she had turned against him. He recalled a few days before he had spent together and wrote several verses of poetry they had read. No reference was made to his little son.

Mrs. Audum Brinke conferred with friends of her husband respecting the disposition of his body. She concluded that the remains should be brought here and interred in Arlington, and it is likely that the local lodge of Red Men will have charge of the funeral arrangements, as the deceased had been connected with that organization. The parents of the deceased reside at 1115 St. Gregor street, Cincinnati.

SHOT BY STRANGER.
James Dorsey, colored, Under Treatment at Emergency Hospital.

Three colored men assisted James Dorsey, also colored, twenty-six years of age, to the Emergency Hospital last night to be treated for a pistol shot wound in his back. His friends committed him to the care of Dr. Sheep and the latter took him to the operating room and put him upon the table. It was impossible to locate the bullet, and the patient was sent to a ward to be cared for. The X-ray will be used upon him today.

Friends of the wounded man said they knew nothing of the circumstances under which the shooting occurred. They found Dorsey at Arlington Junction, where he had been shot, they said, and they assisted him to the hospital. Dorsey's home is in Alley Park. He was accused by a stranger, he said, and as soon as they separated the stranger began firing at him. One bullet struck him, but he managed to make his way to Arlington Junction.

The stranger, he said, shot at another man near the same place last week.

Shooting Palmer was notified of the shooting and said he would make an investigation.
